Dear Friends,

The great Feast of Pentecost last Sunday brought to an end the Easter Season and we resume our journey through what we call 'Ordinary Time'. The first stage of Ordinary Time was between Christmas and Lent and is always short, this year lasting the first 6 weeks. The length of the first part of Ordinary Time depends on when Ash Wednesday occurs, which in turn depends on the date of Easter. This second stage of Ordinary Time is much larger spanning the time between the Easter Season and Advent, a period of around six months. By the arrival of Advent, this year on the 28th November, we will be very used to Ordinary Time. Not every Sunday during this stage is observed as Ordinary Time as some major feasts are celebrated on a Sunday and take precedence over the Ordinary Sunday. This Sunday and next are always examples of this. This Sunday is Trinity Sunday and next Sunday is the Feast of Corpus Christi.

How often do we think about the Trinity? Yet, every time we pray we begin and end our formal prayers in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. This is how we begin and end our Masses. Scripture contains no philosophical mature doctrine of the Trinity and the word 'Trinity' doesn't appear, yet the reality of the Trinity lies deeply embedded in the New Testament and emerged over time.

The best way to begin to learn about the Trinity is to go to scripture where Jesus often speaks of the Father and promises to send the Holy Spirit. The doctrine of the Trinity, that there is one God but three persons in the one God, developed over time and emerged as the Church struggled to come to some understanding of the nature of God. When I visited our year 4 class about a week ago, the religious question they were exploring was the Trinity. One of the symbols they knew was St Patrick's; the three leafed shamrock: one leaf but three parts of the one leaf. No symbol is able to explain the Trinity but they can help a little for us to try to visualise what is a deep mystery.

MEDITATION:

Time: 4pm
every Wednesday

Which reminds me of the Bishop who visited a class of young children preparing for Confirmation and he asked them 'who can explain what the Blessed Trinity means? A little girl who had a terrible lisp replied that 'the Blessed Trinity means that there are three persons in one God.' With her difficulty with speech, the Bishop couldn't quite catch what she said. He asked her 'would you please say that again. I didn't understand what you said.' The little girl answered in her faltering speech, "you're not supposed to understand. It's a mystery."

In his letter to the Romans, Paul teaches that through baptism we have entered into the life of the Trinity, an idea that is echoed in Matthew's Gospel where the risen Jesus commissions his disciples to introduce all people into the life of God through baptism. The essence of our religion, therefore, is a relationship of human beings with God. We should continually strive to deepen our relationship with Father, Son and Holy Spirit and may we reflect in our families and community the love and unity we find there. We came together today at Mass in the Name of the Trinity and in the name of the Trinity we are sent out to love and serve one another.

Archbishop Coleridge sent a letter to all parishes this week stressing the importance of National Reconciliation Week. He said "The Church has a crucial role to play in promoting and supporting reconciliation with the First Peoples of Australia. In this National Reconciliation Week I invite you to consider how your Parish can contribute to the process of reconciliation in Australia. In 2020 we launched an Archdiocesan Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP). Our RAP outlines strategies that you can implement in your parish, and I list some here for your consideration:

- Invite an appropriate Elder (Traditional Custodian) to preface weekend Mass with a Welcome to Country
- Or open weekend Mass with an acknowledgement of country.
- Include Prayers for Reconciliation within the Intercessions at Mass
- Promote an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artwork, symbols and flags where appropriate
- Install Acknowledgement of Country plaques where appropriate in consultation with Traditional Owner groups."

Cleveland Parish has been chosen as one of the pilot parishes to plan strategies to promote the Archdiocesan RAP in Star of the Sea.

At all Masses this weekend we place a potplant of the Midyim Berry Bush before the Altar. Midyim berries are a favourite bush tucker plant of the Quandamooka People and this bush will be planted under the Bell Tower after the 8.30am Mass.

Care of this plant and its growth represents the connection today and into the future.

God bless,

Fr Ashley Warbrooke - Parish Priest
